professional disclosure statement

philosophy + approach | Life can feel overwhelming, and that burden does not need to be carried alone. I use a gentle, compassionate approach to come alongside you in life's painful moments. I use a holistic perspective by taking into account the many forces acting on an individual and the systems they live within.

I use an eclectic, humanistic, and strengths-based approach to counseling with every client. This means that I will collaborate with you and acknowledge all the powerful, beautiful strengths you bring with you into each session. With a spirit of respect, curiosity, and hope, I look forward to walking with you.

education + training | I have completed all of the coursework and hold a master's degree (M.A.) in Marriage, Couple, & Family Counseling from George Fox University. Major coursework included couples therapy, family therapy, human development, human sexuality, personality and counseling theory, social and cultural foundations, group theory and therapy, principles and techniques of counseling, psychopathology, and professional orientation.

licensee requirements | As a Licensee of the Oregon Board of Licensed Professional Counselors and Therapists, I abide by its Code of Ethics. To maintain my license, I am required to participate in continuing education, taking classes dealing with subjects relevant to this profession. I participate in supervision with Bob Kleinjan (L7484), licensed clinical social worker, and Ann Marie McHenry (T1051), licensed marriage and family therapist. They abide by the Oregon Board's code of ethics, the state of Oregon laws, statutes, regulations, rules, and attend continuing education to maintain their licenses and be in good standing with the Oregon licensure board.

fees | My fee is $150 per hour. I offer a sliding scale and am credentialed with some insurance companies. Please inquire.
